A Comprehensive, Deeply Impactful, Immersive Learning Experience

Participants emerge with the knowledge, insights, agility and tenacity to lead and manage with greater purpose, inspire ever higher levels of performance, elevate organizational competitiveness, and create a context that fosters candor, creativity and radical collaboration

The Certificate of Insurance Management Excellence (CIME) is an academically rigorous development experience that provides a working knowledge of advanced management and leadership concepts and techniques. The CIME program combines and integrates this knowledge with an expansive how-to understanding of the attributes, characteristics, behaviors, and habits that distinguish the very best leaders

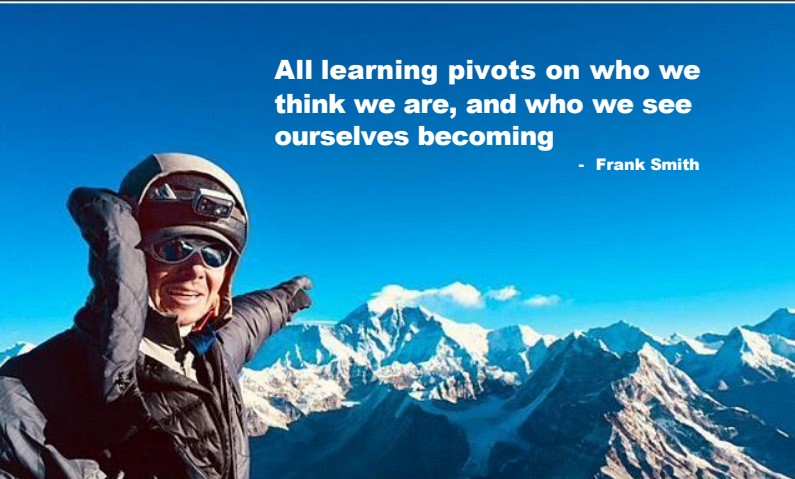

You will learn to dynamically balance growth, profitability, innovation and risk as you fully grasp the increasingly complex challenges faced by insurance leaders and how to address these challenges in a way that advances the organization to a better position in a more demanding future

An Intensely Distinctive Approach that Accelerates Professional Growth, Expansive Knowledge and Future Ready Capabilities

Management and leadership better practices and contemporary frameworks are covered through highly engaging and fast paced tutorials. The content is uniquely robust, immensely interactive, and enlivened through actual insurance case studies that infuses and invigorates participants with profound insights and powerful new knowledge that can be applied to the immediate benefit of their organization. The CIME program is a defining milestone along your continuous journey toward becoming all you can be.

All learning pivots on who we think we are, and who we see ourselves becoming

- Frank Smith

The CIME curriculum is organized around six domains of knowledge that convey a deep understanding of how organizations function at their best, how strategic choices are made in relation to market and industry dynamics and how leaders renew themselves while raising and amplifying the talent, potential and performance of others

A Rigorous Curriculum That Imparts the Knowledge, Passion and Will to Lead

The CIME program syllabus has been developed to uniquely equip participants with both the knowledge that are the building blocks of successful leadership as well as the acumen to think more holistically; to see patterns quickly and accurately, make powerful connections, and develop integrated and systematic solutions to increasingly complex problems. All while developing the foresight and honing a managerial mindset to anticipate opportunities and successfully stage meaningful innovations

Core Topical Domains: The Six Building Blocks of Managerial Excellence

Strategic Leadership

As the insurance industry and the society it serves continues to transform in an accelerated fashion and in multi-dimensional ways, crafting and executing creative, smartly accurate and differentiating strategies are more critical than ever before. But just as insurance is no longer business as usual, so it is that traditional strategic planning is giving way to more nimble, agile and opportunistic strategic leadership frameworks, techniques and tools. This CIME tutorial is a deep dive into the newly emerging disciplines by which Insurance leaders craft and manage strategies that are laser focused on profitably expanding their total addressable market; leveraging analytics to anticipate and gain competitive relevancy through innovations; renew and reimagine the organization from the outside in; and to create and deliver ever higher levels of value to achieve sustainable real growth projects that are not strategically essential, reducing organizational bureaucracy, abandoning past decisions and rules that are no longer a strategic fit: How leaders say no to say yes

Designing, building and applying advanced strategic metrics, analytics and scorecards; Leveraging AI to reveal strategic patterns and considerations

Identifying and purging the barriers and organizational anchors that serve as a drag against strategic traction and progress

Balancing daily operational management with leadership efforts in advancing toward the strategic vision; Navigating the organization through transitions

Defining and managing the organization's internals based on an unblinking truthful assessment of external forces, competition, and potentially disruptive developments

Being strategically nimble and agile; Making strategic adjustments and recalibrations; Leading in times of crisis and the unexpected

Strategy is about setting yourself apart from the competition. It's not only a matter of being better at what you do – it's more a matter of being significantly and meaningful different at what you do – Michael Porter

The explosive expansion of advanced technologies in reshaping how people live and work is exerting a profound influence on insurance organizations. Customers are becoming far more sensitive in the use of technology and their expectation of how technology either improves or detracts from their experience. Whether that experience relates to making a transaction on Amazon, building and interacting with their network via social media, or buying insurance. Simply put, digitalization of insurance processes, products and practices is essential in advancing the competitiveness of the enterprise, enhancing decision making and enabling all insurance functions in becoming future ready. Technology is so strategically critical that it can no longer be left primarily to an insurance organization's IT division. It demands that all insurance leaders become digitally savvy; Leaders with the awareness and ability to blend business, data, and technology in solving today's challenges while anticipating and seizing emerging opportunities. The CIME Digital Leadership tutorial conveys an informed awareness and deeper understanding of contemporary technology architectures, trends, and applications. Through this learning you will gain the insights and acumen to turn technology from a potential inhibitor to a catalyst in delivering higher levels of performance, sparking creativity and accelerating innovation

Many businesses still make important decisions based on instinct instead of information and evidence. This will change as AI becomes more pervasive; making every company and every employee smarter, faster and more productive – Marc Benioff

Authentic Leadership

Creating and constantly forging consistency between and among your actions, values, thoughts, feelings and words

Raising and acting on a higher and more accurate level of self awareness; Finding and amplifying your own leadership voice; Building and reinforcing brand you

Understanding your management strengths and weaknesses; Crafting a postcard from the future managing leader that you are striving to become Through protected reflective time replay your actions and behaviors: How did that go? What could I have done better?

The six constructs of managerial emotional intelligence; How to plant the seeds of trust throughout the organization and position yourself as being consistently and dependably trustworthy, credible, believable

Developing and defining yourself in a way that gives people a compelling reason and desire to be led by you

Earning respect based on who you are not based on your position; Holding yourself entirely accountable for your own actions, behaviors, success and failures; Becoming the resilient leader and giving courage and confidence to others; Helping people find their legs and regain their stride after stumbling

These are extraordinary times. The increasingly complex and rapidly changing insurance industry calls for flexibility, resiliency, adaptability and, above all else, balance. This notion of balance is particularly critical in dynamically combining strong leadership with strong management. For both extraordinary leadership and extraordinary management are essential to not only craft a bold and compelling vision but to also relentlessly advance the organization, step by step, toward fulfilling this vision. The new challenge is to be both a visionary leader as well as a masterful manager. At times you will need be the leader; a leader that sets about building an organizational context for ever higher levels of performance, creativity and growth. And there will be times that call for you to serve as the enlightened manager; a manager who gets amazing things done each day through people by motivating, solving problems, and modeling the way. The Authentic Leadership tutorial serves as the capstone to your CIME experience. It provides you the framework, process and opportunity to reflect upon and begin applying the learnings gained throughout the CIME program in shaping your own journey to being both a masterful manager as well as an inspiring leader

It's about creating an environment in which people refuse to accept mediocrity. It's about pushing against the urge to say that "good enough" is good enough. Don't be in the business of playing it safe. Be in the business of creating possibilities for greatness

- Bob Iger
